A Month of Me: A Visual Diary

with Susannah Yaunt-Torreano

I have always felt that images can speak volumes and have learned that expressing a mood, an experience, or your emotions through art can be an amazingly, fulfilling and healing process. It is my hope that you will feel supported and free to express yourself through a beautiful mix of self portrait, illustration, creative writing, and whatever else your heart desires. At the end of the seven week class we will bind our week by week journals in our own books to keep for years to come.

In this class we will use such techniques as:

Beginning Knitting and Crochet

with Sumer Kuehne and Kara Hetrick

This is the class for people who acquire a crochet needle or knitting needles and yarn then look up and say, "What's next?"

This introduction to crochet/knitting class will start with the basics. We will learn the chain, slip stitch, single crochet stitch, and double crochet stitch. We will use these stitches to create scarves and hats. If we, as a class and as teachers, are feeling experimental and brave we could move on to purses and capes.

$100.00– includes supplies

Mixed Media Art For Teen Girls

Ages: 13–18

with Melissa Kelsey

What is inside of you? Can you get it out the way you want? Express your emotions and feelings through this mixed media art class for teen girls. We will use photography, painting, magazines, collage, drawing, etc. to express ourselves in ways that we cannot with words alone. We will deal with confidence, self-esteem, body image issues, and anything else that is in your heart and on your mind. This class is all about you expressing things you may not be able to otherwise. You do not have to be a "good" artist. There are no rules to the art you will make, just a willingness to learn, try, and express yourself. We will have a lot of fun and hey, it may change your life!

Thursdays, January 5th, 2006 –
